The Rotary Club of New Road City, in collaboration with Nyata Tuladhar Samiti, Nyata Tuladhar Misa Pucha, and Nyata Yuva Pucha, successfully organized a Mega Health Camp aimed at promoting preventive healthcare and early diagnosis within the community.

The camp provided a wide range of medical services, including consultations in gynecology, ENT (ear, nose, and throat), prostate health, general medicine, dental care, diabetes screening, and eye examinations. Participants benefited from essential health check-ups such as blood sugar testing, blood pressure monitoring, oral health assessments, vision screening, and specialized consultations for women's health and age-related conditions like prostate concerns.

In addition to diagnosis and treatment, the camp emphasized health education by offering guidance on lifestyle management, nutrition, hygiene, and the importance of regular medical check-ups to prevent chronic illnesses such as diabetes, hypertension, and vision-related disorders.

The event saw an impressive turnout of over 150 community members, making it one of the most impactful and largest community service initiatives undertaken by the club this year. This initiative reflects the club's strong commitment to improving public health, raising awareness, and ensuring access to basic healthcare services for the community.
